Home work (2) – second semester I-Read the following text then do the tasks below

The sand gazelle, or goitered gazelle, is a horned animal that lives across the Arabian Gulf and North Africa. Originally found in all Arab countries, it is now extinct in Iraq, Kuwait and Yemen and endangered everywhere else, including Syria. In the summer months, sand gazelles live in small family groups of around ten individuals. During the winter, they congregate in larger herds. They are ideally suited to the desert environment with their white heads and sand-coloured bodies. This allows them to blend into the desert, camouflaging them from predators. Sand gazelles are small mammals, weighing only 20 kg. However, they are very guick and have been known to reach speeds of almost 100 km per hour. They are excellent jumpers and use their speed and agility to evade the attention of predators.

There is no day and night in space, so sleep is simply planned when it is most convenient. Astronauts sleep in small compartments using sleeping bags. They are loosely strapped into these so that they will not float out of them in their sleep. Blindfolds and earplugs are also available for astronauts, who find it difficult to sleep with the noise from the machines. Daily routines should allocate eight hours for sleeping. Another important part of spending any long period in space is getting the right amount of exercise so that the bones and muscles can stay strong. On Earth the human beings are always moving against the force of gravity, with bones and muscles supporting the body .. In space there is no gravity so bones and muscles will become weaker very quickly. In pace astronauts need to do about two hours of exercise a day, using exercise machines such as treadmills and exercise bikes.
